

Matt - here is your November, 2016 e-newsletter (with updates since early-October):

Celebrating Top Honors for One of Our Own

State and local public education professionals joined elected leaders in early November in North Branford for the announcement of Connecticut's 2017 "Teacher of the Year." Click here for a photo of Lauren Danner, the top finalist and member of our affiliated teachers union representing the district's educators.

Union Members in the Spotlight

In honor of National Dental Hygiene Month, we highlighted dedicated caregivers whose mission is to promote good oral health to their students, patients and communities. Click here to meet three healthcare union members committed to a culture where effective dental care is a shared priority.

Demanding More than a "Rubber Stamp" for their Community

Advocates in late October urged state health officials to assure independent oversight of the recent settlement approving the take-over of Lawrence + Memorial (L+M) Hospital. Click here for the announcement from the coalition that includes our union members calling for more transparency in the acquisition process.

Warning of Threats to Patient Care Services

Caregivers at Windham Hospital in mid October demonstrated outside their facility to alert residents to Hartford HealthCare's proposals in current contract talks to silence their voices. Click here for a photo from the action where union members and elected leaders expressed concerns about their community hospital's future.

Attorneys Choose Union "For a Seat at the Table"

State employees who provide vital legal services in mid October voted to join AFT Connecticut for a voice to advocate for themselves and their profession. Click here to learn why assistant attorneys general are looking forward to achieving parity with their public employee union colleagues.

Standing Up for Small Businesses and Taxpayers

The same special interests that have long opposed tax fairness are bankrolling candidates who want more of the same austerity policies already damaging Connecticut's quality of life. Click here to learn more about their record and why we should vote against those they're backing on November 8.

Growing the Movement to Reclaim the Promise

Joining with parents, students, education advocates and elected leaders, union members in early October organized "walk-ins" at 24 schools and colleges across the state. Click here to watch highlights from events in Meriden and Norwich, which were among 2,000 actions on the same day nationwide.

Defending Career Technical Education Services

When state education officials in early October proposed closing two technical high schools, public employee union leaders joined legislators to denounce the short-sighted scheme. Click here for a photo of the Capitol news briefing where the president of our vo-tech teachers union urged better choices.

Picketing to Put Patients Before Profits

Behavioral caregivers at Natchaug Hospital in early October took to the streets of Mansfield to expose a monopolistic health network's failure to respect its workforce. Click here to watch union members, advocates and elected leaders call on Hartford HealthCare to be "fair to those who care."
