

The U.S. Supreme Court in February, 2018 heard oral arguments in a corporate-funded lawsuit aimed directly at our members and all public employees across the country. Those backing Janus vs. AFSCME Council 31 have "weaponized" the judicial system to weaken unions.

That's why we've been mobilizing members across Connecticut to build greater strength in the event the high court rules in favor of the rich and powerful.

Know the Truth

If the dark money donors behind Janus get their way at the nation's high court, we can expect a deceptive PR campaign aimed at union members.

Beware their misleading pitch, "ditch your union, give yourself a raise." The CEOs and hedge fund managers behind Janus aren't interested in saving you money; they're interested in stripping your rights to negotiate a better future.

→ Take Action

There are many ways to be part of our collective efforts, both while awaiting a high court decision and then fighting back to protect your rights from further attacks:

- sign a card to re-affirm membership with your local union;
  - wear "U & I in Union" stickers in your workplace; &
  - share stories of the "union difference" on social media

In the labor movement, we know that the most effective defense is a strong offense. That's why it's so important to share stories about how the "U & I in Union" make us stronger with your co-workers.

Learn more about the lawsuit, access news coverage on its implications, and tools for resisting the special interests behind it at aftct.org/U\_and\_I\_in\_Union.

35 Marshall Road | Rocky Hill CT 06067 | 860.257.9782 | aftct.org

facebook.com/aftct

@AFTCT

