

JOIN THE BLACK OUT

JAN 12

Stand together with your colleagues and wear black to school on Wednesday, January 12, to bring attention to the fact that our schools are not as safe as they should be.

Since coming back from the holiday break to the rampant spikes in COVID throughout our schools, we have been speaking out about your concerns, including a failure to distribute the promised N95 masks and home test kits, staff shortages, and the need for flexibility in allowing for short-term remote learning.

We need every member of school communities across Connecticut—educators, paras, custodians, nurses, cafeteria workers, bus drivers and monitors, and support staff—to stand together and amplify the call for safe learning and teaching environments in our schools.

Join the blackout, and together we can ensure our schools are the safe, enriching environments our students and staff deserve.
