

ADDRESSING WORKPLACE BULLYING IN HEALTHCARE DURING COVID-19

A Union of Professionals

AFT Nurses and Health Professionals

PRESENTER: SARA MARKLE-ELDER, ASST. DIRECTOR
AFT NURSES & HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

Workplace bullying in healthcare is nothing new, but the incredible stress healthcare workers have endured during the pandemic has made the problem worse. Please join us to learn how to recognize bullying and identify some tools to address bullying to help individuals and bargaining units.

MONDAY
March 22, 2021
5:30-7:00PM

Zoom Webinar from AFT Nurses & Health Professionals

Please contact
Sara Markle-Elder
to register in advance:
smarkle@aft.org

Zoom info will be sent via email to registrants prior to workshop.

1.5 contact hours provided.

The American Federation of Teachers/Nurses and Health Professionals is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. There has been no commercial support of this program and the presenters declare there is no conflict of interest.

At the completion of the webinar, participants will report more self-confidence in knowing how to identify workplace bullying behaviors and solutions for individuals and bargaining units.

The learner must attend 100 percent of the session. After the learner has completed all of their chosen sessions, a certificate of attendance, program evaluation/survey must be completed and returned to the provider.
