

We've been THERE...

For 101 years, the nurses and healthcare technicians of L&M Hospital have proudly served our community with professional care and compassion. Working at our community hospital means we have been there by your side at some of life's most precious moments.

For the births of your children.

For your joy in recovery.

To ease your pain in illness.

And always for the long haul.

Now that we have been locked out by the corporation that owns our community hospital, you have been here for us. In this, our most difficult time, you have walked with us, brought us hot coffee, and offered aid and comfort for our families.

You understand that we are standing up to the management of our hospital, not for ourselves alone but for our community.

Our patients and their families, civic leaders, students, workers and their unions, our local and state elected officials and all our neighbors in the greater New London community have our backs. As we move forward, we know we can count on you to give us strength.

Thank you for being by our side.
