January 29, 2025 (Wed)
4:30PM - 6:30PM
via Zoom

Offered by the

RESC Alliance
CONNECTICUT ALLIANCE OF REGIONAL EDUCATIONAL SERVICE CENTERS

This module is designed to offer all school-based personnel a basic understanding of trauma and trauma-informed care practices at all tiers, from universal practices to individualized supports.

Participants will develop competency around:

- Defining and discussing trauma
- Identifying common trauma symptoms
- Understanding implications that trauma and toxic stress can have on behaviors

We'll also look at neurodevelopment to learn how trauma and toxic stress affects brain development. Participants will develop a deeper understanding of a trauma-informed care framework and how these intersect with existing school initiatives such as school climate, PBIS or restorative practices.
