Structured and well run union meetings are the cornerstone of democratic member participation and collective decision making. In this interactive workshop, participants will gain a clear understanding of Robert's Rules of Order and how they structure fair, efficient discussions. You'll learn to apply these rules to ensure your meetings are democratic, inclusive, and focused. Through guided exercises, you'll explore strategies tailored to the unique needs of your own local, and leave with ways to advance your union's meeting goals.
